How to get current location on my website(SEO Friendly) I want to display a current location on my website, so that it is SEO friendly. I looked at several websites but they are much more complex than what I want. I want to show where the user is based on the IP address, or the coordinates of the user. I am creating a very simple website for an online forum. It is almost a database for all the users on the forum so there is no actual data on the website yet. It is still in a very early stage with some text boxes and a map that is a Google Map. I want to display the current location of each user on my website. I looked up Google-Maps
